PROJECTS:

1. Small Food Website

Tech Stack: Vscode | HTML5 | CSS3 | Bootstrap | AOS Animation

- Developed a small and responsive food website that displays a variety of food items and juice items. The website was built using HTML and CSS, with Bootstrap framework used for layout, styling, and responsiveness.
- Implemented a simple and clean user interface using Bootstrap components to ensure compatibility across different screen sizes. This project helped me gain practical experience in front-end development and framework-based design.

2. E-Commerce website – (MERN STACK PROJECT)

Tech Stack: Vscode | React.js | JavaScript | HTML5 | CSS3 |

- Developed a responsive e-commerce website for purchasing products such as mobile phones, laptops, earbuds, and smartwatches. The application allows users to browse products, view details, and place orders through an interactive user interface.

- The project was built using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, with React as the front-end framework. Implemented core React concepts and extensively used React Hooks, including:
 - useState for managing component state
 - useEffect for handling side effects such as data updates
 - useContext for global state management across components
- Focused on creating a clean UI, reusable components, and smooth user experience. This project helped strengthen my understanding of front-end development, component-based architecture, and modern JavaScript practices.
